

Subcontractor Certification

I am authorized to bind the Subcontractor and I certify as follows:

1. For all work performed at Los Alamos National Laboratory or for Los Alamos National Laboratory under a Subcontract, the Subcontractor and its workers will comply with all applicable requirements in the federal Occupational Safety and Health Standards. See, 29 CFR. Part 1910 or 1926 as applicable. Subcontractor workers will also comply with all Los Alamos National Laboratory Environmental, Health and Safety requirements. Additionally, the Subcontractor shall provide only workers having the skills, knowledge, and abilities to safely perform the work assigned.
2. For all work performed on or near exposed electrically energized parts, the Subcontractor's workers will comply with the requirements for "qualified persons" as set forth in the Safety-Related Work Practices established in the Electrical Subpart of the federal Occupational Health and Safety Standards for General Industry (29 CFR subpart 1910.331-.335). The Subcontractor will determine that its workers have the skills, knowledge, and abilities to safely perform the work assigned. The Subcontractor has the responsibility to determine when "qualified persons" are required in order to safely perform work, and, when so required, that its workers meet the Occupational Health and Safety requirements for "qualified person" as discussed above.
